Insights before collection

Accelerate your investigations, Analyze your data earlier in the process

Don't risk investigations matters turning into potential litigation. Piece together what happened quickly and earlier in your case using our revolutionary approach to eDiscovery.

LIVE EDA

Slow investigation process

Siloed data holdings and the growing proliferation of unstructured data makes it hard to quickly determine if you have a valid case and who the key custodians are.

High risk of data spoliation

Using spreadsheets to track custodian responses and waiting on IT to collect data and create holds means unnecessary delays – and makes spoliation and noncompliance that much more likely.

Growing cost of outside counsel

A lack of user-friendly tools results in too much data sent to outside counsel and slow collaboration with them, driving up the cost of review.
